WASHINGTON (AP) — James E. Day, of Chicago, president of the Midwest Stock Exchange, said today that the prices of very few stocks appear to be out of line despite an 18-month rise in market averages.

He and Ronald E. Kaehler, president of the San Francisco Stock Exchange, were called to tell the Senate Banking Committee about the two largest exchanges outside New York City where stocks are bought and sold.

The committee started public hearings last week in what Chairman Fulbright (D-Ark.) described as "a friendly study" to determine what's behind the boom in stock prices and what it may bring.

Day cautioned in his prepared testimony against sweeping generalizations about the market being up or down on the basis of various stock averages.

"The market is made up of hundreds of issues that daily have opposite trends," he said. "An erroneous impression is created when we speak about the stock market as a single unit."

"The only sound way to evaluate prices of securities is to analyze them on the basis of book value, earnings per share and yield. On this basis, it would appear that very few stocks are out of line pricewise."

Alliance Sought By Arab Nations

CAIRO (AP) — Egypt, Syria and Saudi Arabia called Sunday night for a new neutralist Arab military and economic alliance. It would replace the eight-nation Arab League setup dealt a near death blow by Iraq's recent defense pact with Turkey.

A joint Syrian-Egyptian communiqué said the two nations had reached "complete agreement" on principles of a pact to set up a joint military command and bar alliances with non-Arab nations.

Saudi Arabia's King Saud in Riyadh announced his government's "full support" of the plan.

The three states said they would call a meeting of premiers and defense ministers of the Arab nations this month to work out details of the new pact. The other Arab nations are Lebanon, Jordan, Yemen, Libya and Iraq.

Syrian Foreign Minister Khaled el Azem said in Damascus that Iraq would be invited to join in the new alliance only if she junked her pact with Turkey.

Pacific Fleet Ready To Defend Anything, Admiral Stump Says

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The boss of the U.S. Pacific Fleet says, "If the United States is willing we can defend anything against the Communists."

But the statement left the Reds guessing.

Adm. Felix B. Stump was asked by newsmen whether his statement included the Communist-menaced Matsu Islands, 20 miles off the mainland.

He replied, "Anything."

However, top American officials have not specifically and publicly said what action would be taken in event of a Red assault on the Matus or Quemoy, another Nationalist island across the Formosa Strait.

Dulles Reports To President On Asia Outlook

State Dulles continues his report to President Eisenhower today on what he found during a two-week, 26,000-mile look at what he called "the forward positions of freedom" in Asia.

He spent an hour and a half with the President late Sunday, and planned to return to the White House for further conferences today.

Dulles returned Sunday from his tour of seven Asian nations, saying he found "courage and love of liberty and hope." Much of the hope, he said, is based on U.S. power and willingness to fight.

Referring to the countries as the forward positions of freedom, he said they are "positions which the Chinese Communists are desperately trying to take."

Dulles plans a radio- television report to the nation tomorrow night. Details are being worked out.

British Papers Say Princess Will Wed Divorced Air Ace

LONDON (AP) — Persistent press rumors that Princess Margaret will wed divorced air ace Peter Townsend got unexpected support today. A big-circulation tabloid carried an interview with the RAF group captain indicating there may be something to the stories.

British papers first dropped hints that Margaret was in love with Townsend — more than 15 years her senior — two years ago when he was an equerry in the royal household and they were frequently seen together at social functions.

The reports died down a short time later after Townsend suddenly was whisked off to Brussels as air attaché at the British Embassy. Since then, as far as the British public knows, they haven't met.

But two big Sunday papers — the People and the Pictorial — asserted this weekend that the romance is still very much alive and that the matter will soon come to a head.

Mirror reporter Howard Johnson said he told Townsend that the Pictorial had commented that if Margaret "places above all the man she loves, then she need fear no enduring rebuke."

He quoted Townsend as replying, "That is nice to hear."

Johnson said he also told Townsend the Pictorial had predicted there soon would be an announce-

Federal Payroll Cut 282,893 By G. O. P. Regime

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration claimed today to have reduced the federal payroll by 282,893 persons in its first two years.

The Civil Service Commission said in a statement that employment dropped from 2,649,441 persons on Jan. 31, 1953, to 2,366,548 last Jan. 31. Within the same two years, it said, employment in the Washington area dropped by 26,481.

The federal payroll, built up during the Korean War, started to decline in the summer of 1952. A drop which started during the last half of the Truman administration has continued, with a few temporary interruptions, in each month since then.

Between December and January, the commission said, the net change was a decrease of 319,002 — of which 304,227 was attributed to the dropping of temporary post-office workers hired at Christmas time.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — One man was killed and 16 other persons injured when two airboats loaded with passengers collided in the Everglades near the Tamiami Trail.

Four Young Children Perish In Oil Stove Fire At Mitchell, S. D.

MITCHELL, S. D. (AP) — A young rural couple's four children burned to death—early today when a fire, believed caused by an exploding oil stove, swept through the bedroom where they were sleeping.

The mother, Mrs. John Heinrich, 27, was driven back by flames and dense smoke when she and neighbors attempted to rescue the trapped children, ranging from 2 to 6 years.

Mrs. Heinrich was taken to a hospital with first and second degree burns. Heinrich, a truck driver, was on a delivery run at the time.

The children all slept in one bedroom, where the oil stove was located.

Burglars Steal 20 Accordions Valued At $11,100 In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — A music store owner told police Sunday night that burglars made off with 20 accordions valued at $11,100.

Nationalists Fire At British Vessels

HONG KONG (AP) — Two British freighters reported they had been fired on today by the Chinese Nationalist navy in the Formosa Strait. Both ships radioed they had escaped but made no mention of casualties or damage.

The first report came from the 3,538-ton Westway, which reported a Nationalist gunboat had fired on her northeast of the entrance to the Red Chinese port of Tsinkiang.

The Royal Navy sent a warship to her aid and the ship radioed later she had arrived safely at Tsinkiang her destination.

The second ship, the 2,500-ton Tai Sun Hong, radioed she was fired on by a Nationalist warship off the island known as Rogue's

Volcanoes Still Rumbling In Hawaii; 600 Leave Homes

PAHOA, Hawaii (AP) — The threat of violent new volcanic outbursts hung like a dark cloud today over the danger-filled lava fields of eastern Hawaii Island.

Earthquakes of diminishing intensity jolted the area throughout Sunday. They rumbled along the 20-mile slope from Kilauea crater to the active volcano fields on Puna Peninsula.

Volcanologist Gordon A. MacDonald said Pahoa — its villagers packed and ready to run if a big eruption burst forth — "is still not out of danger, but things are definitely looking better."

He said volcanoes may continue to pop up in the devastated Puna area "for days, weeks, even months."

Gov. Samuel Wilder King inspected the fuming lava flows and spouting lava fountains from the ground Sunday.

A week of fiery eruptions has driven 600 persons from their homes. Lava flows have closed around at least nine dwellings and caused an estimated two million dollars damage to rich cane and timber lands. Four villages have been evacuated.

A fountain of lava burst out of a cane field a week ago near Pahoa. Since then eruptions and earthquakes have scorched a four-mile stretch across the heart of the Puna Peninsula.

One lava river was about 100 feet from the ocean near a deserted south coast settlement, Pohoiki. The molten stream had slowed almost to a stop.

A Second flow south of abandoned Kapoho had virtually stopped 200 yards from the ocean. The other coastal villages emptied are Kalapana and Opihikao.

Seismographs began registering continuous quakes above inland Pahoa Saturday. The uneasy residents maintained vigil in drizzling rain Saturday and Sunday.

Dazzling Blast Fired In Nevada

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The biggest and brightest blast of the 1955 atomic test series lighted western skies 20 minutes before dawn today.

The white flash was perhaps the most dazzling ever seen in Las Vegas, 75 miles distant from Yucca Flat.

It shone a yellow gold color above the mountains near Los Angeles, 250 miles to the southwest. It was almost as though the sun were trying to make an early appearance.

This was the highest tower shot ever set off in Nevada. It was the 35th test at the Nevada site and fourth of the current series.

A group of 50 observers saw the detonation from Angel's Peak on the Charleston range, west of the test site. They reported it was one of the most impressive shots ever seen from the mountain vantage point.

The explosion was from a 500-foot tower for the first time.

The blinding flash finally faded like the filament of a light bulb. The fireball, a perfect sphere, rose almost immediately but held firm for about 20 seconds.

The version reported from committee is known to be unpopular with the House, Republicans and Democrats alike. So whatever the

Senate Set To Tackle Revised Highway Bill

LANSING (AP) — For the first time this year the Senate as a body expects to get its teeth this week into Michigan's highway expansion program.

Until now, the House has debated and passed the Peltz Bill while the issue has been kicked around by Senate leaders and the Senate Republican caucus.

Now, however, the Senate Highway Committee has reported out a revised Peltz Bill and debate is due this week, possibly starting tonight when the lawmakers return from their weekend recess.

Senate does probably will end up in a House-Senate conference committee for a settlement of inter-chamber differences.

One other major measure is expected to go to a House-Senate conference this week. That is the bill extending the 1952 Business Receipts Tax beyond its March 15 expiration date.

For the rest, the two chambers faced a week of relatively routine sessions.

At the same time the commission brushed aside an Israeli counter complaint that an Egyptian unit had ambushed an Israeli patrol, starting a running fight that took the Israelis into Egyptian territory. This complaint was killed off when the Egyptian delegation voted against it and Giomaggi abstained.

Radio Bandsman Beats Drum For 57 Hours

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Roy Harte may not blow his own horn but he certainly believes in beating his own drum.

Harte, a 30-year-old radio and TV bandsman, put down his sticks at midnight Saturday after drumming for 57 consecutive hours.

During the marathon Roy was given haircuts and shaves, was fed steaks and orange juice without missing a beat. He even boarded a truck, and still playing rode to a night club where he sat in with Gene Krupa's band.

Roy had "a real fast 12 hours sleep" Sunday and doesn't think he'd like to do it again.

Pontiac Kidnapers Attack Mother Of 2

PONTIAC (AP) — Police held four men today for investigation in the alleged rape-kidnaping of a young mother of two children.

The four were captured early Sunday on U. S. 10 south of Pontiac. Two of the men were holding the woman on the floor of the back seat of their car, police said.

The four were identified as Oscar Chavers, 26, of Gary, Ind.; his brother, Richard, 23; Joe Williams Jr., 25, and Winston Johnson, 25, all of Pontiac.

George Taylor chief assistant prosecutor, gave this account of the incident:

The woman and an escort were returning home after attending a wedding when their car got stuck in mud.

Oscar Chavers stopped and tried to help them. He drove off when the woman's escort asked him to call a tow truck. Instead of calling the truck he got his brother, Richard, and the two other men and returned to the stuck car.

They offered to drive the escort to a service station but en route he became frightened and fled from Chavers' car. The four then returned to the car where the woman was waiting, and forced her into their auto.

Attack At Gaza Deliberate, Says Armistice Group

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel has been charged by the U. N. Mixed Armistice Commission as a "brutal" aggressor who deliberately attacked Egyptian forces in the Gaza Strip a week ago.

The armistice group said the bloody assault in which 38 Egyptians and 8 Israelis died violated the 1949 Palestine truce agreement.

The commission's ruling Sunday heightened speculation at U. N. headquarters in New York that the Security Council would vote similar censure against Israel when it takes up the explosive issue again next week.

Maj. Gen. Edson L. M. Burns of Canada, U. N. Palestine truce chief, was expected to leave for New York in a few days to give the Security Council a personal report on the Gaza incident, which has strained relations in Palestine to the breaking point.

At Sunday's meeting on the Egyptian-Israeli border, the truce commission adopted an Egyptian resolution declaring the Gaza attack Feb. 28 "was committed by Israeli regular army forces against an Egyptian regular army force."

It was carried over Israeli objections by the votes of the Egyptian delegation and the U. N. chairman, Commandant Francois Geismaggi of France.

At the same time the commission brushed aside an Israeli counter complaint that an Egyptian unit had ambushed an Israeli patrol, starting a running fight that took the Israelis into Egyptian territory.

This complaint was killed off when the Egyptian delegation voted against it and Giomaggi abstained.

Oven Blast Kills Five In Chicago Wieboldt Store

CHICAGO (AP) — An exploding gas oven in the bake shop of a suburban department store Sunday night killed five men and injured another.

The blast in the suburban River Forest Wieboldt Department Store bent and shattered the walls, floor and ceiling of the first floor bake shop. The explosion also shattered display windows in other parts of the four-story structure.

"The entire building shook like a ship," commented Wasce Dimytrosz, a baker who witnessed the blast in a basement below the bake shop. He was not injured.

Four of the victims were employees of a company installing a new 32-pan gas fire oven. The fifth was a store engineer.

Bernard Gerard, River Forest police chief, attributed the explosion to illuminating gas used in the ovens. What actually touched off the blast was not immediately determined by authorities.

F. E. Stahl, store manager, placed the damage "over $100,000."

He was first ordained to the ministry in the Friend's Church (Quaker) in 1946; and in 1952 to the Presbytery at Mattoon, Ill.

His experience in church work began in 1944 in the Iowa Welsh Church at Iowa City; followed by the post of assistant pastor and director of education at Edgewater Presbyterian Church, Chicago; and student assistant at the Roseland Presbyterian Church in 1951-52.

He was then pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Newton, Ill., and left there to become assistant to the president of Carroll College, Waukesha, Wis., to November of last year.

Painter All Through With Monkey Business At New Orleans, La.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Harry D. Spencer swears today he is all through with monkey business.

A house painter by trade, Spencer looked around for something else during a slack season. A newspaper ad landed him with a New Orleans firm that buys monkeys from South America for sale to zoos in this country.

"I was born and reared on a farm in Indiana, so I figured I'd do all right with monkeys," moaned Spencer from his bed in New Orleans Charity Hospital.

The job of feeding them and cleaning their cages netted him $20 a week, 10 bites, chills, a 104 fever and a strange malady that doctors so far call "fever of unknown origin."

Spencer still thinks monkeys are "cute little fellows," but he's going back to painting.

Principal speakers were John Butts, Lansing, executive secretary of the Michigan Association whose topic dealt with current legislation on fair trade and O. K. Grettenberger, also of Lansing, director of drugs and drug stores, who outlined the proposed new pharmacy laws and their probable effects.

Gilbert Trier of Ironwood is president of the Upper Peninsula Association, and William J. Bisdie, Escanaba, is president of the Delta-Schoolcraft unit, host group at the meeting.

Paul Richter Hurt In Auto Collision

Paul Richter, 49, of 200 1st Ave. S., suffered a fracture of the right knee cap at 12:30 p. m. Saturday in a traffic accident at the intersection of County Road 535 and M-69 in the village of Schaffer. He is receiving treatment in St. Francis Hospital.

State Police who investigated the accident said that Richter was driving north on M-69, and that the other vehicle involved in the accident was a passenger car going east on County Road 535 and driven by Oscar Guenette, 30, of Schaffer.

Guenette drove into the intersection when he failed to see Richter approaching because of a parked car, he told State Police. No tickets were issued.

SUN OF CANADA REDUCES COST OF INSURANCE

$26 million in dividends to policyholders in 1955

New dividend scales which, for the sixth consecutive year, will considerably reduce the cost of life insurance for the policyholders of the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, are announced by George W. Bourke, President, in his Annual Review of the Company's business for 1954. Approximately $26 million will be paid out in dividends in the coming year, an increase of more than $2 million over 1954. New life insurance sold in 1954 amounted to nearly $700 million, an increase of $120 million over the previous year. This new business figure is the largest reported for the year by any Canadian company, much of it having been sold in the United States where Sun Life has 36% of its business in force, and branches in major cities from coast to coast. Included in the new business figures was $239 million of group insurance, representing an increase of $68 million over the 1953 figure. Total Sun Life insurance in force now exceeds $6 billion.

Other important figures of the Report include $41,365,000 paid to beneficiaries of deceased policyholders and $92,985,000 paid to living policyholders and annuitants. This $134 million paid in 1954 brings the total paid by the Company since its organization in 1865 to $2,966 million.

MORTGAGE LOANS UP
Mr. Bourke declared that the contribution by life insurance to new housing in the United States and Canada looms larger every year. During 1954, Sun Life mortgage loans increased by more than any other type of investment, and by the end of the year the Company had $323,000,000 invested in mortgages, mostly in individual homes.

The Sun Life of Canada, with 93% of its total business in force in the United States, Canada, and Great Britain, holds 46% of its invested assets in the United States.

Mr. Bourke, in his Report, expressed optimism for Canada's continued prosperity. "A year ago I told you that I looked forward to 1954 with every confidence," he declared. "That confidence proved to be justified and is in no way lessened for 1955."

A copy of Sun Life's complete 1954 Annual Report to Policyholders, including the President's review of the year, is being sent to each policyholder, or may be obtained from

Michigan Teen-Agers Launch Campaign For Driver Education

THE teen-agers of Michigan have launched what we believe will result in the most effective campaign thus far developed to whittle down the rate of highway accidents.

Bright youngsters from the high schools of the state met recently in Lansing and advocated that driver training classes be established in every high school in Michi-

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

Ever hear the word "chicane"? No, not "chicanery"—which means trickery—but simply "chicane." Well, the chances are your grandmother, if she was the whist-playing sort, knew it well. And the likelihood is even greater, if you're anything of a card-player yourself, that you'll be using this word with authority before the year is out.

Chicane, you see, is the seldom-used bridge-whist name for a hand without trumps. Most present-day bridge players have never heard the term and, on the unhappy occasions when "chicane" would accurately describe their hands, they're more likely to say they are "void" or have "drawn a blank" in trumps.

But there's a new game just being launched by the card and game manufacturing wizards, a game which they believe will be even more popular than gin rummy and canasta—and it's a game in which "chicanes" occur frequently and with dramatic effect on the scoring. This new game is "Calypso," out of Trinidad by way of London and just now making its first appearance on the bridge tables of America.

It's a remarkable diversionment in many more ways than one. Described by Geoffrey Mott-Smith, the noted game expert, as a "rollicking game, simple to learn and play," Calypso employs not one or two but four complete decks of cards. (No wonder the card manufacturers are enthusiastic about it!) But you don't have to hold more than 13 cards in your hand at any one time. And, in addition to the revival of chicanes, the game has one great novelty bound to appeal to the individualists among us—each of the four players has his own personal trump.

Well, you can see that this Calypso business is pretty complicated, even though Mott-Smith says it "has one-tenth the rules and none of the complexities of bridge" and calls it "one of the all-time easiest games to play at." But have no fear—a whole raft of books is on the way to help you cope with the "non-existent" complexities of the game. Kenneth Konstant, the British bridge whiz who launched Calypso in London, has already brought out a slim volume about it here. Mott-Smith has one due in a day or two and the rumor is that Goren, Jacoby and Culbertson are also about to commit books on the subject. So the betting in this corner is that Calypso and chicane will both be household words, come autumn.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Mel Allen loves to tell about the young girl who was taken to a ball game to see Mickey Mantle in action. She had heard a great deal about the Yankee baseball star and was quite anxious to see him play. When he came up to bat she strained her neck to make sure that she did not miss a motion of his stance at the plate, and her eyes did not leave him when he was stationed in the outfield. Her boy friend was beaming because of her interest in the game as Mantle came up to bat for the second time, when she suddenly turned to him and said, "Well, dear, let's go, this is where we came in!"

The Doctor Says . . . Gallstones Not Limited To Those 'Fair, Fat and Forty'

By EDWIN P. JORDAN M. D. — Written for NEA Service

Perhaps the most frequent cause of gall bladder trouble is the presence of stones. These, as the name implies, lie in the gall bladder, or the passageways from it. The gall bladder is a small pear-shaped pouch located under the liver on the right side a short distance through a passageway or duct into the intestines.

Although we learned in medical school that gallstones were most common in the "fair, fat and forty," they are by no means restricted to people described in such terms. True, they are most common after 30, and true, also that three-fourths of all cases are in women.

WHAT CAUSES gallstones to form? There are several possibilities. Stagnation of bile in the gall bladder is one. Overweight, wearing of corsets, occupations requiring a leaning forward position and sagging of the abdominal organs are believed to produce such stagnation. Lack of exercise, particularly when combined with too much fondness for food, also favors the formation of stones.

Infection in the gall bladder may also play a part. Many persons with gallstones have an increase of a substance called cholesterol in their blood, and cholesterol is present in most gallstones.

Gallstones may or may not cause symptoms. Those which do not are called "silent" stones. When they do cause trouble the most common early symptom is indigestion. A vague feeling of discomfort gan. Furthermore, they asked adult organizations throughout the state to join hands with the teen-agers in a campaign for legislative funds to assure the success of the program.

Many schools now have driver training but many others do not. Some schools offer a part of the program but no actual driving training experience. The teen-agers believe that the job of teaching youngsters how to drive safely can best be performed in the high schools. And we agree with them because the record supports this contention.

Hard pressed for operating funds as most schools are, the added financial burden of instituting driver education programs is too much for a lot of schools that now lack such a program. The teen-agers believe that funds specifically appropriated for this purpose should come from the state and passed on to local schools for driver training.

The youngsters want the schools of Michigan to develop drag strips for youths, to sponsor economy runs, to conduct teenage road-race contests, to arrange custom-car shows, to offer awards for teen-age drivers and to develop a "Code of Car Conduct" for teen-agers.

That the youngsters' pleas are being heard is evident from the political developments. Gov. Williams has advocated an appropriation of a million and a half for driver education and Supt. of Public Instruction Clair Taylor announced his support for a million dollar appropriation. State political conventions likewise endorsed the plan.

A lot of programs have been attempted in an effort to cut down the terrible traffic toll but none has more promise of extensive results than the driver training classes in the high schools.

Learning to drive a car is a lot more than simply learning how to shift gears and to turn the steering wheel. More important is the training in driver responsibility.

This Is National Girl Scout Week

THIS is National Girl Scout Week and we would like to join in the national observance to say, "Happy Birthday" to the million and a half girls who have membership in this grand organization.

The Girl Scouts, like their counterparts, Boy Scouts of America, and the Campfire Girls, direct their efforts to intelligent learning and to good citizenship. The contributions that they make to a better America are of tremendous importance to all of us.

It was just 43 years ago next Saturday that the Girl Scouts of America was born and during the past four decades their work has touched the lives of millions of Americans. We are proud of the Girl Scouts and happy to extend best wishes on their anniversary week.

His hair was white as heck. And everywhere that Mary went, The poor fish signed the check.

Today And Tomorrow

By ROSCOE DRUMMOND
WASHINGTON—The Supreme Court decision in the case of Pvt. Richard T. Keefe, an AWOL GI who was convicted in a French court of assault and theft, will probably not silence the extremist advocates of the Bricker amendment to restrict the treaty-making powers of the President and the Senate.

For several months these advocates have been recklessly using the Keefe affair to try to whip up public opinion to believe that the government has given away through treaty personal rights guaranteed by the Constitution. A typical Bricker-amendment argument went this way:

Roscoe Drummond's column will be substituted three days a week for the column of Walter Lippmann who is ill. Mr. Lippmann's column will be resumed when Mr. Lippman returns to work.

"The question is: Can a foreign government—in this case France—arrest an American GI, try him before a French court and give him the works (solitary confinement, five years of hard labor and possible exile to a French penal colony) for what would be a minor offense under American law?"

Actually the French court did none of these things.

A facet of this case reached the Supreme Court because Mrs. Gladys Keefe appealed to the American courts to hold that Status of Forces treaty, recognizing the right of France to try in peacetime an American soldier for a crime committed against French law, deprived her husband of his constitutional protection. The Federal Court of Appeals ruled that Pvt. Keefe's constitutional rights had not been infringed and the Supreme Court has now upheld this verdict.

FACTS DISTORTED

The purpose of this column is to try to set out, as faithfully as possible, the facts which have been distorted with such abandon by those who use the case to bolster their argument that the Senate cannot be trusted to use its treaty-making powers wisely.

THE OFFENSE—The assertion is repeatedly made that Pvt. Keefe committed only a minor crime, that he simply purchased a French taxicab, that, as one writer put it, he was engaged in a bit of "high jinks." The evidence, which the soldier admitted in court, was that Keefe and another U. S. soldier entered Orleans after completing a period of confinement in a United States guardhouse in Germany. They got drunk, lost most of their money in a dice game. At about midnight they went to a railroad station, hired a taxi driven by a 65-year-old Frenchman and when they were several miles from town attacked the driver, beat him until he was unconscious, dumped him on the road and drove to Paris where they left the cab.

The trial was observed by a representative of the U. S. Army who reported that the accused "enjoyed every safeguard of a fair trial."

THE SENTENCE—The French criminal code provides that if a theft is committed (1) at night, (2) by more than one person, (3) on a public highway, and (4) with violence that leaves injuries (the French taxi driver sustained a badly-damaged nose, broken false teeth, cuts and bruises requiring hospitalization and was incapacitated 30 days) the minimum penalty is five years, maximum is life imprisonment. Pvt. Keefe and his colleague were given the minimum sentence. Recent sentences against French persons for similar offenses have ranged from 10 years to life.

TACT AND RESTRAINT

THE TREATY—When NATO was created the 14 member nations had to determine the status of foreign military forces in friendly territory in time of peace. The U. S. agreed that if an American soldier commits a crime in the performance of duty, he is triable by his own courts-martial, but that for crimes committed off-duty and off-post he is subject to the courts of the country in which he is stationed. The same applies to foreign troops in the U. S.

The NATO countries have applied this provision of the Status of Forces treaty with great tact and restraint. In a recent six-month period there were 1987 American soldiers accused of crimes over which the local courts in NATO countries had jurisdiction. Of these, 1787 were surrendered to U. S. military jurisdiction. Only 200 were retained in the local courts and, of these, only 42 were sentenced to imprisonment, sentences on 33 of the 42 were suspended and only nine America soldiers were actually imprisoned.

These are the facts. They do not seem to me to support the proposition that the Constitution needs to be changed to keep the President and the Senate from giving away American rights.

If you want to keep out of the spotlight, try getting up-stage with your friends.

The man who uses his head seldom has to worry about getting over it in debt.

French Gal With Magic Voice Prefers Switchboard To Stage

CALAIS, France —(NEA)—Will "Zoupynette" finally yield to the golden lure of the footlights. Or will she decide, as she did before, to stick to her home and her switchboard?

These are the vital questions in a real-life soap opera drama that thousands here and in Britain have been buzzing about for weeks.

Its heroine, Zoupynette, is a pretty and talented French girl of 26. She is listed in city records as Juliette Deguines. But almost everywhere else in Calais she is known by her colorful nickname.

According to her admirers, Zoupynette could give a night-gale a handicap and outing it. And she's been promised bundles of francs that most girls can only dream about if she would turn professional.

But Zoupynette isn't selling. Surprising both fans and promoters, she has turned aside every offer that would lead to a full-time career.

She says she would rather stay home with her daughter, Martine, who is five and her schoolteacher husband, Pierre. And the job she is holding now, she insists, suits her ambitions fine. She is Operator No. 13 at the local telephone office.

IN ROLE AS SINGER, "Zoupynette" warbles into microphone.

Born to a musical family, Zoupynette has been singing—practically always for free—since almost before she could talk. At 13, she sang in amateur competitions where performers were "hooked" from the stage if the audience disapproved.

Before and after her marriage, in 1946, she sang with an amateur choral group wherever and whenever asked—for friends, old people, strikers, at hospital wards and the Labor Exchange.

Then came a sudden bid to warble for cash at Calais Casino. At the same time, a job loomed for husband Pierre, the choral society's pianist, in an orchestra bound for Brazil. There were other attractive offers from touring companies going to Italy and Africa.

Both refused to be tempted. They said they would like the money, but not if it meant giving up their "uneventful but happy" home life. And after their baby was born, Zoupynette stopped singing for more than a year.

In 1951, the fame she would not go elsewhere to seek came to her in Calais.

She was asked to appear on a television show being beamed to Britain from the local town square. The singer originally scheduled was the famous Edith Piaf. But thanks to a word from the mayor, Zoupynette was chosen instead. Attired in a simple black dress, she warbled "La Vie en Rose," singing the lyrics in English with a marked but intriguing accent. The reaction was overwhelming.

While the program was still on the air, TV viewers in England were flooding the network's office, asking to hear her again. In the mail came hundreds of letters and requests for autographed photos.

Included among the letters was a singing offer from Birmingham, England. It came on her annual vacation, so Zoupynette said she would go—the first time she'd been out of France.

Her act was an instant click, and brought offers from London to appear in the plushiest night-clubs for $600 a week. But again Zoupynette said no.

After all, she explained, the telephone job in Calais provided an old-age pension. If she gave it up for the stage, what guarantee would she have of finding continued success?

She returned to her switchboard, and the offers gradually ceased. But last year, just before Christmas, her singing led to a story in a leading French magazine. Bids have been coming since bigger than ever before.

The latest and best is from Britain—to appear on television shows. Friends say it's so attractive that no one, including Zoupynette, could possibly turn it down. They're convinced that she soon will cross what many have called her "bridge of gold."

Knowing her record to date, however, no one is willing to bet.

Piano In Suitcase? It's Electronic One

CHICAGO —(NEA)—Latest device to cock the musical ear is a new electric piano. Portable, low-priced and able to be tuned up to a shout or down to a whisper, this piano-in-a-suitcase opens up new possibilities for players.

Housed in a cinnamon brown plastic and metal case with carrying handle, the piano is ready for playing as soon as it's set on any sturdy table and plugged into an electric socket. By late spring, according to manufacturers, you should be able to buy the piano and carry it home. It weighs 7½ pounds, will cost slightly less than $300 or roughly half the price of an average conventional spinet.

This is no toy, however. Developed after six years of experimentation and research in the laboratories of one of the major instrument firms (Wurlitzer) in DeKalb, Ill., the piano has been market-tested and is in production in the factory at Corinth, Miss.

Part of the case lifts off to uncover a 64 note keyboard. The dimensions are small by comparison with conventional pianos—about eight inches high, 22 wide, 40 inches long. If you live in a thin-walled apartment and the neighbors object to noise, the volume control can be pitched low. If you're invited to be the life of the party, the volume can be turned up.

For an all-out shout or special effects, an extra jack connects piano to radio, high-fi, television or amplifying system to give all the volume the ears can take.

This piano can also sound enough like a bass fiddle, guitar, harpsichord or celeste to fool a tone expert. Special effects like these are produced by amplifying bass or treble and by the player adjusting his touch on the keyboard.

Auxiliary ear-phones may be worn by the player and the noise he makes will be audible only to him.

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON
(NEA Washington Correspondent)
WASHINGTON—(NEA) — The atmosphere of today's Senate investigation of the stock market is entirely different from the atmosphere of the last investigation of 1933, when the midget sat on J. P. Morgan's lap.

Twenty-two years ago the country had gone through the crash of 1929 and four years of deep depression. A lot of people—little people—had been hurt badly.

Today, nobody has been hurt by the stock market rise of the last 18 months. It has been doing well by many people who think—Boom!—It's wonderful.

Out of the 1933 investigation came the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934. It requires full disclosure on stock issue information, regulates the sale of securities and gives the investing public much more protection from market manipulators.

What will come out of the investigation of 1955, nobody knows—least of all the honorable Senate Committee on Banking and Currency before which hearings are being held. It is a kind of exercise in safety first to prevent anybody from being hurt before he finds it necessary to jump out the window or blow his brains out after the fashion of 1929.

AS SEN. J. WILLIAM FULBRIGHT (D, Ark.), chairman of the committee, declares, "The basic issue is whether the public interest is being faithfully and wisely served." The basic interest is not, he says, whether stock prices are now too high, whether they can go higher, or whether they should be driven down.

It is an investigating committee's business, however, to find something wrong. Wall Street is a convenient whipping boy.

If the committee finds nothing wrong, the committee itself may be hurt. If the stock market is given a clean bill of health, it would only encourage more people to take a flier when they should be keeping an ear to the ground.

The investigation gives the exchanges and their member brokerage and banking businesses the best publicity forum in the country from which to tell their story.

As pictured in the testimony of lead-off witness George Keith Funston, 45-year-old president of the New York Stock Exchange, nothing is wrong with the stock market today.

ADMITTING THAT THE stock exchange governors are just as much interested in a stable market as anyone else, and that they will be glad to have anything wrong pointed out to them, Mr. Funston brought to Washington no program of corrective action.

There is no comparison between the present market and the great bull market of 1929, he declares. Today's economy is twice as big as 25 years ago. Assets and profits of corporations are also double.

Today's dollar is worth only half as much. So in terms of stable dollar values of 1935-39, stock prices and stock averages today are now higher than they were in 1936 and far lower than they were in 1929.

The dollar volume of stock transactions is only one fifth as large as in 1929, says Mr. Funston. Stock transactions today are only 1-18 as great as in 1929, if measured on the basis of percentage of national income.

Today's market is pictured as a cash market—not a credit market. The borrowings of stock exchange member firms in 1929 rose to $8.5 billion, or 10 per cent of the value of listed stocks. At the end of 1954, borrowings were only $1.9 billion, or 1.1 per cent of listed value.

TODAY THE FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD has the power to limit margin requirements on stock purchases. This authority is approved so long as margin requirements are based on sound economics and not for political or psychological effect.

While exchange leaders say they do not want excessive credit for stock market purchases, they point out that last year 70 per cent of all autos were sold on credit and 80 per cent of all homes are mortgaged.

The great stock exchange mistake of 1929 is now analyzed as a failure by the board of governors to realize that the volume of that market was being built up by professionals who were trading with each other. They knew the rules. The public didn't know the rules.

The aim today is to prevent another runaway market like that of 1929. The greatest danger today is seen in the gullible public's buying on tips and rumors, instead of on sound values.

Last October, when cheap uranium and oil stocks were being bid up, the New York Stock Exchange started a publicity campaign against tips and rumors. How much good it did is questionable.

"An investor can be protected against virtually everything but himself," says Mr. Funston.

With basketball a top national sport, the height of the average boy's ambition is about 6 feet-6.

Baseball pools, full of sharks and suckers, soon will be with us.

Snow Saves 11 In Bomber Fire

LIMESTONE, Maine (AP)—Swirling, drifting snow downed a giant "global bomber" but paradoxically saved its crew Sunday night in the first crash of a 10-engine B36 at Loring Air Force Base.

The 4½ million dollar aircraft crashed on a landing run and burned with spectacular fury, but officials said all 11 crewmen "walked away" from the wreck. Five suffered burns.

Col. Jackson W. Lewis, Loring AFB commandant, said the super bomber cracked up on a snow-choked runway when a snow storm interfered with its setdown approach. But, Lewis said, snowdrifts cushioned the crash impact and delayed spread of fires until all hands scrambled to safety. The plane was returning from a routine training flight.

Wall Street

NEW YORK (AP)—Aircraft were marked down sharply today in the stock market in the early afternoon while other divisions subsided gradually.

The drop in the aircrafts went from one to around four points. Elsewhere, losses were small while gains in some instances went to between one and two points.

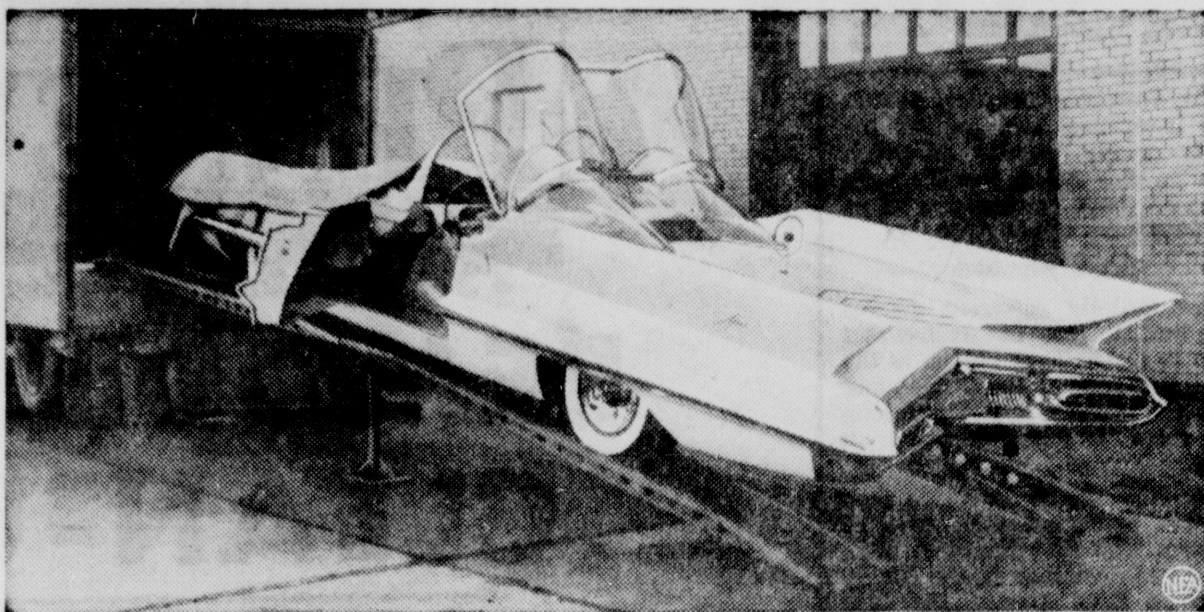

Trading was around the 2,770,000 shares traded Friday.

The depression in the aircrafts came as the Defense Department got a request for information on companies with large defense contracts from the Senate Banking Committee now engaged in a study of the stock market.

Higher were Royal Dutch Petroleum, Sunray Oil, International Nickel, Bethlehem Steel, U. S. Rubber, and National Distillers.

Lower were Santa Fe Railroad, Baltimore & Ohio, U. S. Gypsum, Republic Steel, Chrysler, Douglas Aircraft, Lockheed, Glenn Martin, General Dynamics, and Schering Corp.

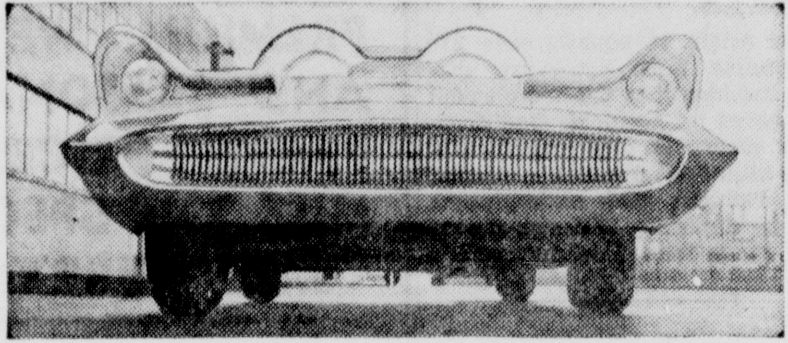

U. S. government bonds were unchanged to lower.

Something's Fishy Here

Lincoln's revolutionary Futura resembles a shark from out of the deep, and its designers say there is a reason why. The fierce, fish-like appearance of the experimental auto is expected to give it aerodynamic qualities which will help stabilize it at high speeds. And it will be able to travel, for it's powered by a 330-horsepower V-8 engine. The shark-like front, shark fin rear fenders and hooded headlamps are all fashioned after features of the ocean creature. The car features air scoops in the rear fenders which cool the rear brakes and provide fresh air for the air conditioning system. Twin canopies rise when the doors are open, but a safety device prevents the car from moving while the canopies are raised. The Futura will be used as a "laboratory on wheels."

Shark-like front is said to be inspired by streamlined ocean fish.

Antenna on rear picks up auto horn sounds, carries them into car.

Smith Cough Drop Formula Passes On As President Dies

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y. (AP)—For 40 years William W. Smith II vanished, semi-annually, into a vaulted room.

There with only a trusted employee to help him, he would spend up to two weeks, stirring sugar, corn syrup and charcoal, plus anise, licorice, wintergreen, horehound, peppermint and certain "essential oils."

The fruit of this secretive labor was a cough drop that has helped create an American institution.

Smith Cough Drop Formula Passes On As President Dies

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y. (AP)—For 40 years William W. Smith II vanished, semi-annually, into a vaulted room.

There with only a trusted employee to help him, he would spend up to two weeks, stirring sugar, corn syrup and charcoal, plus anise, licorice, wintergreen, horehound, peppermint and certain "essential oils."

The fruit of this secretive labor was a cough drop that has helped create an American institution.

Stephenson Gets New Fire Truck

STEPHENSON—The new fire truck was delivered to the Stephenson Village Council Wednesday evening. The truck, built by Alonzo Barker of Menominee on a Ford chassis purchased from the Modern Machinery Sales in Stephenson is the newest piece of fire fighting equipment purchased in the past 20 years.

In 1937 the council purchased a used Chevrolet pumper from the Village of Gwinn. Because the present equipment was over 25 years old Stephenson was due for an increase in insurance rates. The village council last October decided to purchase a new truck in order to maintain the same insurance rate the village now enjoys.

The new fire truck was delivered by Mr. Barker accompanied by Fire Chief Sporrer of Menominee. The sounding of the fire siren at 6 heralded the arrival of the new equipment. Both fire trucks previously owned by the village and the township escorted the new truck into the village. Formal presentation was held on the village square when Mayor Joseph B. LaComb accepted the keys for the new truck while Village Clerk, Ernest Warner presented the check for payment to Mr. Barker. Mayor LaComb presented the keys to Fire Chief Elton Westman who drove the new truck to the fire hall.

At a short business meeting of the Volunteer Unit held at 8:30 p. m. in the Sportsmen's club rooms it was decided to sponsor a basketball game to purchase first aid equipment for both fire trucks. Transfer of the hose and accessories was made Sunday afternoon so that the new pumper could be ready for use.

Carmen Anderson was master of ceremonies while Firemen Frank Horvath, James Bastien and Joseph Bayee were in charge of refreshments after the meeting.

Legion Planning Party

Godfrey Anderson Post No. 43 of Stephenson is planning a birthday party for Saturday, March 19, under the direction of Robert Hanson and Ted Harske.

A pot luck supper at the club rooms at 7 p. m. will be followed by a social hour. Invitations have been mailed to all posts in Menominee county.

Celebrating the birthday of the Post is a yearly affair with the Legion. Both Legion and Auxiliary are combining their efforts to make this party a success. Legionnaires and friends of the Legion are invited.

Safety Discussions

John Sundquist proposed at the Teachers' Club meeting that a follow-up take place regarding the Teen-Age Safety Conference which was held in Menominee Feb. 1. Eight students from Stephenson attended this meeting. It has been proposed that these students be members of a panel discussion group. They would meet with the various homerooms to carry on discussions emphasizing safe driving. Members of the club favored the proposal.

AN IMPORTANT MESSAGE TO ALL ESCANABA VOTERS

Convinced that the private power proposal to buy our electrical utility is NOT a good deal for the City of Escanaba, two members of our City Council tried to stop the Private Power Proposal at the Council level. While their efforts were not immediately successful they certainly did not hesitate to call a spade a spade. We intend to follow their example and make every effort to Save Our Electrical System from the Private Power Monopoly.

We Are Convinced That The Sale Of Our Electrical Utility Is Not A Good Deal For The City Because:

As one of the best known Home Rule Cities in the entire middle west we have operated our own electrical utility successfully and profitably for more than fifty years.

Home Rule And Home Ownership Of Our Utilities Belong Together. Let's Keep Them That Way. Why Sell The Best Utility We Own?

Vote "No" on the proposal to sell our electrical utility April 4.

S-O-E-S Volunteers

UP AND AT 'EM—Here for the first time, the USAF's newest operational all-weather interceptor—the Northrop Scorpion F-89D—is depicted "scrambling" to intercept an attacking bomber. Warning from powerful ground radar search unit brings pilots and radar observers (1) racing to Scorpions already fueled and fully armed with 104 high-explosive air-to-air rockets. Full power from its twin turbojet engines sends the F-89 streaking skyward (2) to intercept the aerial invader. Within a few minutes, the 600-mile-per-hour plane bores its way more than eight miles high on a near-vertical climb. There its powerful electronic radar search gear "locks on" (3) to the attacking aircraft. At the moment of attack, its rockets are fired in salvos (4), with a "kill" (5) virtually certain. Mission completed, the F-89 returns to base (6), where a skilled ground crew awaits to refuel and rearm it.

Women's Activities

Glenna Fallmer, Mr. Hippensteel Wed Saturday

Heirloom pure silk taffeta fashioned the gown worn by Miss Glenna Ann Fallmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Fallmer, 216 S. 5th St., for her marriage Saturday to Donald Eugene Hippensteel of Nescopec, Pa.

The basque bodice was detailed with a deep V neckline, outlined with scalloped Valenciennes lace, embroidered with iridescent sequins and seed pearls, and had a back button closing. The long, tight sleeves extended to points over the wrist and the very full skirt was waltz length. A headpiece of iridescent sequins and seed pearls in scalloped crown effect, designed by the bride, to match the lines of the gown, held her fingertip veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascade type bouquet of white roses and delicately tinted blue feathered carnations. Tiny earrings of imperial cultured pearls, the bridegroom's gift, completed her costume.

At Bethany Church

The 2:30 p. m. service was held in Bethany Lutheran Church with the Rev. Clifford Peterson, pastor of the First Lutheran Church of Gladstone, solemnizing the double ring ceremony. Donald Nelson, assistant pastor of Bethany, who was soloist, sang "Because," "Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer." He was accompanied by Don Aronson, organist, who played the traditional bridal processional and recessional. His prelude of organ music as the guests were assembling for the service included "Prayer" from Gothic Suite by Boellman, Schumann's "Traumerei," "Andantino" by Lamare and "Meditation" from Thais, Massenet.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was preceded down the white carpeted aisle by Mrs. Robert E. Meyer, who was matron of honor. Her dinner length gown was of ice blue crystal and was made with a deep V neckline and cap sleeves. A softly draped apron effect at the waist was drawn into a large bouffant bow in the back. The full skirt was of unpressed pleats. A small spray of blue and white feathered carnations in her hair matched her cascade bouquet.

Robert Traugh Jr. of Indiana, Pa., a cousin, served as best man for the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hippensteel of Nescopec. Ushers were Merlyn Jones of Nescopec and Robert McKillip of Saranac Lake, N. Y., a college classmate.

All white flowers, snapdragons, gladioli and carnations, in gold vases adorned the altar for the wedding service and two tall standards holding like flowers were at either side of the sanctuary, arranged with cathedral tapers in candelabra.

Blue And White Theme

Mrs. Fallmer attended her daughter's wedding in a silver blue Dior dress of silk peau de soie with a jewel neckline. She wore blending accessories and a white orchid corsage. Mrs. Hippensteel was attired in a dress of chartreuse antique taffeta with which she wore a matching hat and black accessories. A deep purple orchid was pinned to her clutch bag.

The reception from 3 to 5 was held in the Marine Room of the House of Ludington. An all white floral theme was used in the centerpiece of the serving table, flanked by matching tapers. A bridal couple figurine topped the tiered wedding cake which was decorated with blue roses, repeating the blue and white color theme of the wedding. The base of the cake was encircled with greenery.

Presiding at the silver services were Mrs. Edward Hurley and Mrs. Ervin Paulin Jr. Also assisting were Mrs. Philip McCotter of Milwaukee, who served the wedding cake, Mrs. M. W. Wiglesworth of Lawrence, Kan., who was in charge of the guest book, Mrs. Axel Anderson and Mrs. Robert Traugh.

Home In Indianapolis

The couple will live in Indianapolis where the bridegroom who is in the U. S. Army service is stationed. The bride, a graduate of Escanaba High School, attended Michigan State College where she received a certificate in home economics. A talented professional ice skater, she was a member of the cast of the Ice Capades and also was with Leary Ice Productions. Mr. Hippensteel attended Manlius Prep School, Manlius, N. Y., and Paul Smith's College (resort management) at Lake Placid, N. Y., following his graduation from Nescopec High School. He received his bachelor of science degree from Michigan State College in 1954.

Guests at the wedding included Mrs. M. W. Wiglesworth of Lawrence, Kan., Mr. and Mrs. Philip McCotter, Milwaukee, Robert McKillip, Saranac Lake, N. Y., Merlyn Jones, Nescopec, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Tonkin and Tommy and Lynn, Appleton, Wis.,

MRS. DONALD EUGENE HIPPENSTEEL, whose marriage took place Saturday at Bethany Lutheran Church, is the former Glenna Ann Fallmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Fallmer, 216 S. 5th St. The bridegroom's parents are the Walter Hippensteels of Nescopec, Pa. The reception following the afternoon ceremony was held at the House of Ludington. (Portrait by Millie)

Meditations for LENT

By DR. J. CARTER SWAIM
Dept. of English Bible,
National Council of Churches
Written for NEA Service

Lent is a season of cross-bearing, but cross-bearing is not to be confined to Lent. A clergyman whose church had long observed the ecclesiastical calendar said: "I want to warn those non-liturgical churches which are taking up the observance of Lent. They ought to make it shorter. Forty days is too long. People in this age cannot be expected to discipline themselves for that length of time." Yet Lent simply emphasizes one aspect of Christianity which is true all the year around.

One of the dangers of Lent is in assuming that sacrifice belongs only to one brief season of the year. This has to some extent happened with Thanksgiving. Many regard it as something adequately taken care of at the harvest ingathering.

The expression of felt gratitude out to be a part of each day's experience. One name for the Lord's Supper is Eucharist, and that is Greek for the giving of thanks. So it is that crosses are not just burdens to be carried from Ash Wednesday to Easter.

In reporting Jesus' summons to cross-bearing, Luke adds a significant word: "If any man would come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross daily and follow me" (Luke 9:23, RSV). "Daily" is unique in Luke—Matthew and Mark forgot to record it. But we must overlook it. Jesus

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Traugh Jr. of Indiana, Pa., Mrs. Clyde Randall, Lansing, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hippensteel, Nescopec, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Sullivan, Green Bay, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sullivan and Wanda, Houghton, Mrs. Helen Magnuson and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Johnson, Iron Mountain, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Sutter, LeRoy Hippensteel and Mr. and Mrs. William Sutter of Nescopec and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Jacques of Sault Ste. ## Your Baby

When you're leaving Baby with a sitter, it's not a good idea simply to turn him over at the last moment. Have the sitter come a good 20 minutes in advance so that Baby has a chance to get used to her. Baby will become aware of strangers at an age from four to six months and may be very timid with them. Be sure you know your sitter well and have checked her references before you trust Baby to her care.

Babies have a natural feeling for rhythm, and respond enthusiastically to songs and music. Even if you haven't a good singing voice, you can manage the simple songs that will please Baby. This early introduction to music appreciation, we're told, prepares children for enjoyment of music in their school years. And developing a family interest in music provides a source of mutual interest that pays dividends more valuable than the enjoyment of the music itself.

Michigan State College home economists give a few simple rules for handling salad greens: have greens clean, crisp and dry; mix just prior to serving; coat each piece with dressing; have each piece large enough to identify.

Fat Get Fatter And Lean Get Leaner; Dieting Is Answer

AMES, Iowa—(NEA)—Of fat-so's plight is getting worse and worse.

Now we hear that the fat get fatter. The lean get leaner. And no matter how good your intentions are to reduce, it's probably too late to start. Furthermore, even if you do starve yourself and knock off a few ounces of blubber the odds are you'll get it right back.

But don't despair completely, chunky. There are a few rays of hope for you. They're learning new things about dieting all the time.

The gloomy side of the picture for the fat of the land comes from the recent Iowa State College Weight Control Colloquium, which brought together the nation's top experts on overweight problems.

Two theories advanced the claim that the fat get fatter. A study of animals by Dr. Jean Mayer of Harvard says that "they seemed to mobilize spontaneously each day a quantity of fat proportional to their total fat content."

A theory supporting this as applied to humans and postulating that the thin also tend to get thinner is advanced by Dr. Daniel A. Glomse, a Des Moines, Iowa, expert.

"Fat is insulation and a thin person loses more heat by radiation than an obese person. For this reason a thin person may be able to eat more than an obese person and not gain weight."

Several of the experts said that it may be too late for older persons to begin dieting.

"Habits are probably the most important factors in producing the cumulative injury of obesity," says Dr. Edward J. Stieglitz, of Washington, D. C. "And they are concerned not only with food intake, but also with mental attitude, with characteristics of work, sleep and many other factors," he claims.

Thus he concludes gloomily: "The consequences of obesity cannot be effectively corrected or even notably retarded by dietary control late in life. By then the damage is done. Prevention and control must begin in youth and continue late in life."

Studies reported by several of the experts reveal that about 80 per cent of persons who do manage to lose weight regain it all back in five years.

One of the most far-reaching conclusions was that the problem was so serious in the U. S. it's time the subject of dieting and weight control be taught in elementary schools.

A lone dissenter on the general seriousness of overweight is Dr. Ancel Keys of the University of Minnesota.

"Overweight may be seriously over-estimated from the insurance data at hand. From independent evidence it has not been possible to show that our leading cause of death among adults, coronary heart disease, is in any important way related to the relative body weight."

"Reliance on simple body weight control can easily miss the real problem. In the first place, obesity is better estimated with skinfold calipers than with weight scales. And in the second place, the health-promotion tendency of a diet is better estimated from knowledge of the composition of the diet than from its effect on body weight."

The session also produced support for former theories of weight control. Most recent experiments reveal that a major cause of overweight is some emotional disturbance, forcing persons to overeat to feel secure.

The part of heredity in obesity is still a mystery, except for the effect of a family's eating on the child.

Dr. Erceel Eppright of Iowa State College made a study revealing that "oversize girls constitute a nutritional enigma," calling for further study. He found:

"Increased tendency toward overweight in the case of girls 12 and over was not evident when the diet was liberal, although calorie intake was high. The study suggests that teen-age diets in the case of overweight girls are inadequate and ineffective in keeping waistlines slim."

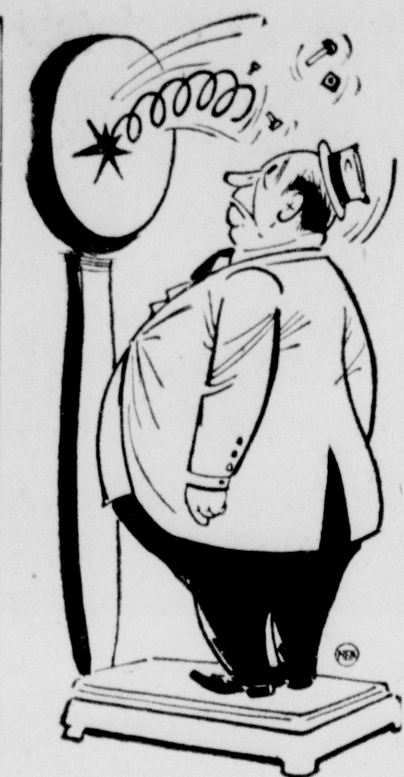

All is not black on the fat front, however. People are losing weight through new ideas in dieting and exercise of will-power, although it still boils down to simply cutting down on intake of food.

Dr. Glomset contends that eating more slowly helps you to eat less. "If you eat slowly your appetite center tells your brain to stop eating before you have consumed more than you need," he says.

Another Harvard expert advises that nibbling a few crackers, cookies or a piece of cheese during the day tends to keep your blood sugar up. Increased level of blood sugar reduces the appetite. That's also why a fairly substantial breakfast is a good diet habit, he claims.

Another doctor says it's okay to take a cocktail or two before dinner, if you like. But if you do, skip dessert.

Practically every expert present reiterated two favorite pieces of advice:

On, that there is still no shortcut to losing weight through "fad" diets, or with drugs.

Two it's easier to keep from gaining weight than it is to lose it.

New Ropeway To Speed Trade Of India-Tibet

WASHINGTON—High in mountains of the little Indian protectorate, Sikkim, engineers are building a 27-mile ropeway to speed up trade between northern India and Tibet.

Like the 14-mile ropeway of Nepal, the Indian project is a series of trestles supporting freight-carrying aerial cables. Flung across the formidable heights of the eastern Himalayas, the mechanism will bring a businesslike touch to nature's exotic scenes of orchid-strewn valleys and ice-capped peaks, says the National Geographic Society.

It will also offer a tangible reminder of changing conditions and potential rivalries developing in that part of the world since the Chinese seized Tibet in 1950 and pushed their frontier to the back-door or India.

Old Route Challenged
Tibet's main trade route and shortest outlet to the sea has long stretched southward across Sikkim to the bustling bazaars of Kalimpong in northeast India.

In the last few years, however, the Chinese overlords of Tibet have launched an extensive highway-building program designed to link this Asia-heartland country to Red China.

According to announcements from Peiping and accounts of travelers returning from the Himalayas and regions to the north, a network of all-weather roads — presumably military and supply lanes—is well under way in many parts of Tibet.

Eventually they are expected to provide direct communications between the Tibetan capital, Lhasa, and China's far inland provinces of Sinkiang, Tsinghai and Sikang, to the north, northeast and east respectively.

Even traffic to the south has not been overlooked. A motorable road was reported under consideration and has perhaps been started from Lhasa to Natu Pass on the Sikkim border.

This 14,000-foot pass is to be the terminus of the new Sikkim ropeway, reaching northeastward from Sikkim's capital Gangtok. As another moterable road already links Gangtok with Kalimpong, early completion of the relatively short transport facilities on both sides of the south Tibetan border would give the "roof-of-the-world" land its first modern route to the outside.

Slow Caravan Traffic
Meantime long lines of mule and pack-pony caravans, led by weatherbeaten men in fur caps and quilted coats, wind slowly over the rugged old trail from Lhasa to Kalimpong.

Traveling by way of southeast Sikkim, they bring India traditional loads of Tibetan wool, hides, musk extract for perfume, yak tails and prayer wheels. In return they carry salt, tea, cotton textiles, molasses, hardware and small articles for household use.

Outstanding among the trade's local specialties, in season, are enormous and delicious apples grown in the wild interior of Sikkim. Cultivated in a fertile valley that looks westward toward snowy summit of the world's third highest mountain, Kanchenjunga, these apples were originally transplanted from England.

By some quirk of soil and circumstance, reports one English orchard expert who arduously made his way to this lofty spot, Sikkim apples reach a state of perfection that every apple grower dreams of for his own product.

Pacific Sailor Almost Rammed Two Islands

WASHINGTON—How does an uncharted island happen to be discovered?

Captain Edmund Fanning, the Connecticut Yankee mariner who helped find new paths across the 18th century Pacific, almost ran under full sail into two islands that are strategically important today.

The two atolls—Fanning and Palmyra—are part of the equatorial Line Islands in the mid-Pacific, the National Geographic Society says. Fanning lies 1200 miles south of Honolulu; Palmyra, 1080 miles.

Captain Fanning's near collision with the unknown islands was such an unmythical experience that he gave up further exploration on his first voyage around the world.

No Swearing Aboard Ship
The strait-laced New Englander, who would permit none of his crewmen to swear on ship, set out from New York in June, 1797. He commanded the Betsey, a brig of less than 100 tons. Fanning hoped to find good sealing grounds in the South Pacific and take on a cargo of skins to exchange at Canton.

His enterprise was supremely successful. At one remote isle, Fanning found countless thousands of seals. Betsey's company stuffed the hold with skins, then the cabin and forecabin, leaving just enough room to accommodate themselves. The square-rigger headed across the broad Pacific toward Canton.

At 3 a. m. on June 11, 1798, a lookout cried: "Breakers ahead and close aboard." The crew barely had time to trim sails and beat clear of a reef.

Daylight disclosed a lush tropical, foot-shaped atoll, about 12 by 6 miles with one promising passage into its peaceful lagoon.

Crewmen found no signs of human habitation, but the island abounded in wood, water, fruits, fish, turtles and coconuts. Fanning promptly named his first discovery for himself.

Premonition of Danger
On the night of June 14, Fanning had a strange premonition of danger. He kept waking, and finally ordered the ship hove to until dawn. Again, day disclosed that the Betsey was about to strike a reef off an atoll. He decided to by-pass the island. It was not officially discovered and named Palmyra until 1802.

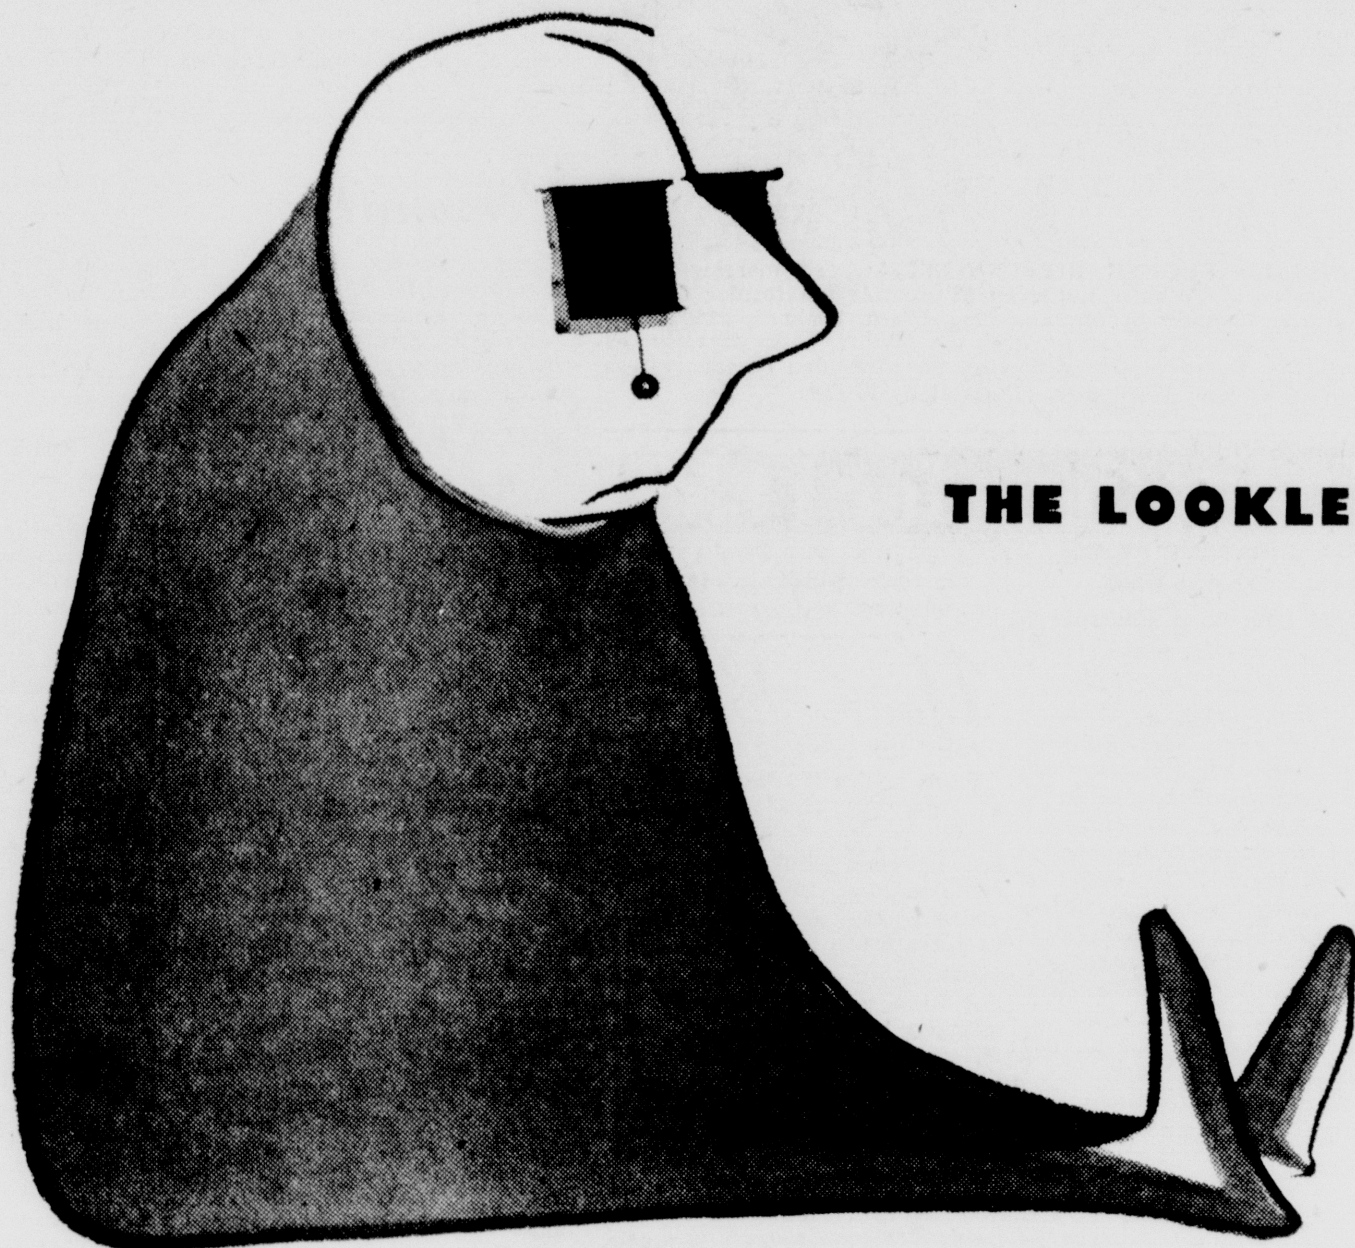

At Canton, Fanning swapped the seal skins for tea, silk, and other luxury goods that netted a profit of $52,300 in the United States. He arrived home on April 26, 1799, completing the first round-the-world journey made by an American merchantman sailing from New York. He later headed or acted as agent for 70 South Sea voyages.

Fanning and Palmyra were annexed by Great Britain. Fanning serves as the mid-Pacific station of a cable running from Canada to Australia and New Zealand. Palmyra was taken over by the United States in 1912 and made a naval airfield in 1939.

COFFEE PRODUCTION
During its 10-year span of productivity, the average coffee tree produces about 30,000 "cherries," the equivalent of only 15 pounds of coffee.

Lobsters, which once were thought to do little ocean traveling, drift hundreds of miles as tiny spiderlike lobsterlings before settling down to the sea bottom. In this stage they are almost transparent, the National Geographic Society says.

THE LOOKLESS OOF

he likes to keep up with the times—last year's

The LOOKLESS OOF is a retailer married to last year's business — to last year's stock, last year's ideas, last year's problems.

He can't see an opportunity two inches away, and wouldn't know a trend from a banana.

What he has learned from experience is what to do in case the past should ever return.

Fortunately the oof is a rare creature.

Most retailers know that selling means keeping in tune with the times.

They're sensitive to changes in customer preferences, and re-stock their shelves accordingly.

They're quick to take advantage of manufacturers' newspaper advertising—by featuring the product in their own store displays . . . and by including the brand in their own newspaper ads.

Since they themselves advertise in newspapers, they know that any manufacturer who does the same is really in earnest — and really is out to win the market.

A modern retailer knows that the best advertising is the kind that reaches all his customers.

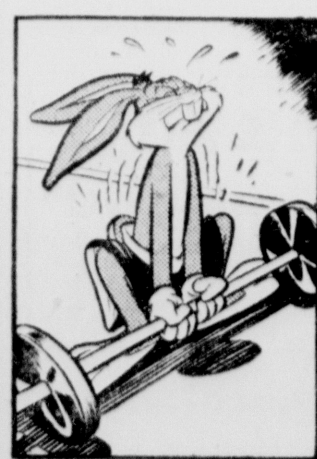

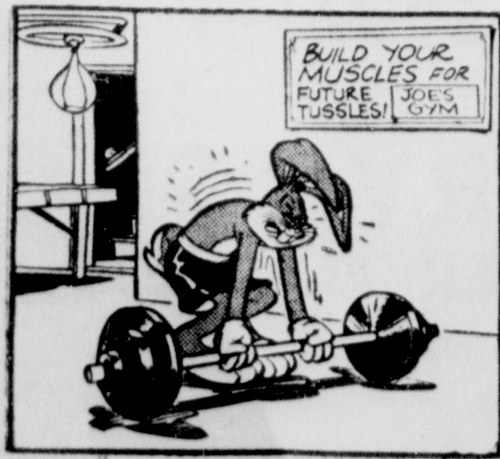

And he likes the manufacturer who thinks the same.

All business is local . . . and so are all newspapers!

Carferry Is Freed From Ice

The No. 3 carferry of the Ann Arbor Railroad Company was freed from windrowed ice 19 miles out from Manistique harbor at 2:45 p. m., Saturday after the vessel had been ice-bound about 30 hours.

Winds from the east and north-east filled the channel with ice floes, and the ferry, one of the smaller ones operated by the railroad, was unable to pass through.

The No. 3, skippered by Capt. Duane Bishop, had attempted to come into Manistique harbor Friday night, but succeeded in getting only within 12 miles of the post. She then attempted at 8 p. m., to return to Frankfurt, but was blocked when about 19 miles out.

The vessel was freed by the larger No. 7 carferry, ordered out from Frankfurt when the No. 3 was unable to free herself. The two boats put in here at 5:30 p. m., Saturday. The No. 3 was carrying 22 cars but had no passengers.

This was the first time this winter that ice prevented the daily carferry from docking here. A small snowstorm Saturday reduced visibility, and the boats could not be seen from the Manistique lighthouse until mid-afternoon.

New Guinea Emerges From Its Stone Age

WASHINGTON—New Guinea, the island that time forgot, catches up with the world a little more each passing year.

Explorers, prospectors, aerial mapmakers, missionaries, agricultural experts and government officials are penetrating farther and farther into the Stone Age interior of Australia's northern neighbor, the National Geographic Society reports.

An island second only to Greenland in size, New Guinea is one of the least developed inhabited lands on earth. It is a place of wild mountains, equatorial rain forests, rare birds-of-paradise and natives who have never seen white men or a metal implement. Much of its area has uncertain political status. Yet investment in its future continues to grow.

Oil, Coffee, Mining

Oil geologists survey unexplored ranges by plane and helicopter. Hydroelectric sites and coffee plantations are being laid out in the remote headwaters of forbidding rivers. Gold long has drawn adventurers, but other minerals exist too: copper, bauxite, nickel, perhaps uranium.

From headquarters in the island's southeastern sector, Papua, Australia administers the United Nations Trust Territory of North-East New Guinea. The Netherlands holds western New Guinea, although for five years the young Republic of Indonesia has claimed that section under its own name of Irian.

Stretching some 1,500 miles from end to end, the great island on the map resembles a prehistoric bird hovering between Australia and the Philippines, its misshapen beak open to snap at the Moluccas, Celebes, and Borneo.

Africa Transplanted

A Portuguese ship first sighted New Guinea in 1527. A Spaniard named it in 1545, largely because the people peering from the shore seemed to resemble those of Guinea in Africa halfway around the world. Gradually the Dutch came then the Germans and British, and in World War II, the Japanese.

General MacArthur's forces used New Guinea as a springboard back to the Philippines. They gave it a glimpse of mechanized bases, air and sea armadas, and all the activities of global war. When the soldiers departed, they left many buildings and materials behind.

Now, dark Papuan boy pedal furiously on their bicycles out of the Stone Age, as it were. In Netherlands New Guinea, MacArthur's old base of Hollandia has become a modern and model town of 10,000 inhabitants. At Sorong, an oil refinery produces an estimated 4,600 barrels a day. Biak island has a naval station and a new airfield.

A million natives, speaking hundreds of languages, tilling remote cultivated valleys and warring among themselves, inhabit New Guinea. They are heartily interested in any progress that entails either change or work.

But as they gradually give up their stone axes and primitive artifacts for more modern tools, New Guinea faces a certain future of change.

Nogalo Scores Three
Joe Nogalo, star defenseman for the Hawks, was the individual scoring ace here Saturday night. Nogalo scored three unassisted goals for the scrappy Hawks, two in the first period and one in the second. Floyd Stac, moved up to a wing because of lack of players, hit Escanaba's fourth goal early in the final period.

But Calumet fought back to take a 3-2 lead on goals by Don Pavolich at 4:45, John Jukuri at 5:00 and Mike Hill at 13:20. Nogalo completed the hat trick at 17:50 for the only goal in the second period to tie it at 3-3 going into the final period.

Floyd Stac took a double pass from Joe Ricci and Mark Olson to beat Calumet Goalie Clyde Berryman at 8:00 of the third period. It looked like a tie game when Owen O'Brien tied it again, 4-4, at 11:00. But the Radars slipped the puck past Ben Artwich at 17:11 to get the narrow win and fourth place in the final standings.

Tight Playoff Race
The race for the fourth playoff spot in the league was the tightest in recent Upper Peninsula hockey circles. Calumet went into the final game with the Hawks trailing Marquette by one win, two points in the standings and two goals in the scoring department.

By winning 5-4 over the Hawks, Calumet moved into a tie in games won, and in points, and pulled away by three goals in the scoring column. The Radars scored 91 goals during the season to 88 for the Marquette Sentinels.

The goals scored make up the third determining factor in deciding ties for playoff berths.

Mark Olson, playing-coach of the Hawks, announced that all players will be available for the first game of the semifinal playoffs against Calumet Tuesday night.

Esquires Beat Pioneers
Tony Mancini and Steve Butorac, Canadian players who were unable to be at Calumet Saturday night, will join the team for the playoffs. Clarence Matt and Bob Higgins of Marquette will also be available along with Ben Artwich of Stambaugh and the remainder of the Hawks' regulars.

The Hawks have rescheduled their practice session for 6 o'clock this evening at the fairgrounds rink, Olson announced this morning.

The Canadian Soo Esquires, who finished at the head of the regular season race, got off to a winning start in their semifinals series with the Portage Lake Pioneers. The Esquires pinned a 12-2 defeat on the Pioneers in the opening game of the series last night.

Winners of the semifinal sets between Soo-Portage Lake and Escanaba-Calumet will play a best-of-five championship series for the Doc Gibson Trophy. Escanaba's Hawks are the defending playoff champions.

Eagles Red Hot In 77-56 Title Win Over Menominee

The Stephenson Eagles displayed uncanny ability to hit the hoop here Saturday night and scored an upset 77-56 victory over the Menominee Maroons to capture the district Class B basketball championship.

Coach Walt Schousen's Eagles thereby qualified to move into the Upper Peninsula championship regional tournament at Houghton this week. Other district champions in the battle for the U. P. crown will be Iron Mountain, Munising and Negaunee.

The Eagles poured a steady stream of field goals through the nets to outclass the tall and veteran Menominee team all the way. They clicked on 31 shots from the floor while missing only 26 for a phenomenal .544 percentage. From the free throw line they clicked on 15 of 28 attempts.

Kakuk, Martin Star
The Maroons, on the other hand, fell far off their point production of the previous night when they drubbed Holy Name 76-58 and hit on only 22 of 90 field goal attempts for a lowly .244 average. They had 24 free throw attempts and made half of them.

Stephenson's deadly one - two scoring punch of Tom Kakuk and Jerry Martin were in fine form against the Maroons. Kakuk dumped in 10 goals and five free throws for 25 points while Martin hit 9 from the floor and five from the foul line for 23.

Martin set the Stephenson pace in the first half with 18 points and Kakuk picked up the scoring reins in the second half with 17. Little Bob Visuri spurted in the second half and finished up with 11 while center Ray Hubbard contributed 8, Jim Strohl and Dick LeRoy 4 each and John Schultz 2. Strohl ran into early foul trouble and left the game with five personals late in the third quarter.

If the Eagles were averted by Menominee's better season record (the Maroons had licked them twice in regular season play) they didn't show it.

Nielsen Scores 30
The score was tied at 2-2 and 4-4 in the early minutes of the game but Stephenson jumped out in front midway in the first period. The Maroons battled back to cut the final deficit to 17-15.

Martin scored five straight points for the Eagles to open the second period and midway in the quarter they boasted a 27-19 advantage. Martin clicked with two more free throws late in the frame and the Eagles had a 35-24 edge at the half.

Stephenson was unable to boost its lead until the final minutes of the third period. The Eagles unleashed a terrific scoring burst to spread a 42-33 margin to 56-36 by the end of the period. The Maroons fought gamely in a losing cause during the final period but were unable to narrow the wide gap.

The only bright spot in the Menominee picture was the fine play of center Dick Nielsen. Stylied in the first half with nine points, Nielsen suddenly found himself in the final period and pumped 15 points through the nets to boost his game total to 30. That gave him 50 points in the

Nahma Tops Perkins 76-56 For Class E Tourney Title

ROCK—With four regulars shooting high in double figures and the entire squad playing heads - up ball, the Nahma Arrows whipped defending champion Perkins for the Class E district title here before a packed house, 76-56.

Coach Harold Anderson's Arrows, who were Upper Peninsula and state champs in 1952 and 1953, were led by a pair of dead-eye forwards who combined for 43 points. Elmer Seymour plunked 23 points through the nets and Bernard Newhouse hit for 20. Both are juniors this year.

Take Big Lead
Duane Popour, senior guard, scored 15 and Willard Clement, senior center, 12. Nahma battled to a 22-19 lead over Perkins in the first period, breaking loose from a 12-12 tie midway in the quarter.

From then on the Arrows pulled steadily away from their Central League rivals. At the halftime intermission Nahma outscored 46-29 edge and they continued the hot pace in the third frame for a 64-41 lead entering the final period.

Coach Joe Young's Perkins quint, which was hot while scoring 151 points in earlier tournament wins over Hermansville and Trenary, couldn't find the combination against the hustling Arrows. Larry Hermanson led Perkins on the scoreboard with 15 points. Melvin Gustafson scored 14 and Marvin Besson 11 to lead the losers.

Regional At Escanaba
After the first period, Nahma was in complete control of the game. The Arrows turned in a grod rebounding performance to gain control of the ball under both boards and out-shot Perkins on 10 field goals for the 20-point margin of victory. Both teams hit 18 free throws.

The Class E title moves Nahma into the Upper Peninsula regional tournament at Holy Name in Escanaba this week against Hulbert, Trout Creek and Alpha. Alpha is defending U. P. champion. The Upper Peninsula Class E.

Southside Hawks Win Junior Hockey Title
The Southside Hawks defeated the Central Puckchasers 6-4 Saturday for the Junior Hockey League championship playoff title with Jerry Hansen scoring the three-goal hat trick.

Dick Duchaine, Mike Heminger and Greg Anspaugh also registered goals for the champs. Boots Boucher equalled Hansen's hat trick performance for the Puckchasers and John Brown scored the other goal for the losers.

Pairings For Regional Tourneys Here Listed

Seidl And Morin Win K. C. Mixed Doubles
Margaret Seidl and Nap Morin took first place in the regular Saturday night K. C. mixed-doubles with a 966 total.

Bea Morin and Bob Molloy had a 945 total for second place, while Amelia Molloy and Evan Johnson came up with a 799 to take the Booby prize.

Rose Webber picked up the 3-7-10 split.

The player payroll of the Chicago White Sox will be "well over $500,000" this year, says General Manager Frank Lane.

In This Corner With Ray Crandall

The Stephenson Eagles and Coach Walt Schousen deserve a world of credit for their commendable showing in the district Class B cage tournament here. They defeated the defending champion Escanaba Eskymos in the opener and came back to snap a long-standing jinx against the Menominee Maroons in the championship game. Before Saturday night's title tilt, the Eagles had lost their last 10 straight games against the Maroons.

Menominee coach Bob Noonan displayed excellent sportsmanship qualities as his Maroons were upset in the finals. He was the first to congratulate Schousen and the Stephenson players. He also made it a point to compliment officials Ray Ranguette and Vance Hiney on their handling of the games and thanked the tournament hosts, Holy Name school officials, for their courteous treatment here. He was a gracious loser in every sense of the word.

The Maroons Saturday night were the exact opposite of the team that trimmed Holy Name so convincingly in the semifinal game Friday night. Against the Eagles, Menominee hit only 22 of 90 field goal attempts for a .244 average. Against Holy Name the Maroons clicked on 32 of 75 attempts for a .427 average.

This district was the only one in the Upper Peninsula to produce a new Class B champion this season. Defending champions repeated in all other districts with Munising winning at Soo, Iron Mountain at Ironwood and Negaunee at Negaunee. Munising is defending U. P. champion.

Holy Name coach Tom St. Germain's role as a spectator at the district finals was an unusual one. It marked the first time in seven years that he failed to put his team into the district championship game. For the past four years his St. Joe Trojans won district championships and in the two previous years they lost in title tilts. The Trojans won one U. P. Class C crown in that stretch.

Manistique Ski Jumpers Win Top Tourney Honors

MUNISING — Two Manistique riders took firsts and another second in the Junior Ski Association jumping tournament here yesterday afternoon before a large crowd.

Jim Cowman of Manistique placed first in Class I with jumps of 112 and 115 feet.

Jack Swartstrom won first in Class II with leaps of 114 and 118 feet. He also won the most graceful rider and longest standing jump honors.

Dan Harbick placed second in the Senior Class with jumps of 116 and 110 feet.

There were 127 riders in the tournament.

Little Giants Nip Powers 44-42 For Class D Crown

ROCK—Coach Bob Pelkie's Rock Little Giants came from behind in the third and fourth periods to nip the tall Powers-Spalding Tigers 44-42 in the Class D district tournament championship game here Saturday night.

Rock, champion of the Upper Peninsula Central League, trailed at the end of the first period 14-8, at the half 21-15 and at the three-quarter mark 32-28. But the Little Giants whittled away at the Powers lead until Duane Vandebusch hit a field goal with 6:30 left in the fourth quarter to tie it up 32-32.

The score was tied again at 38-38, 40-40 and 42-42 as the teams battled on even terms down the stretch.

Lund Clinches Victory
Powers took a 38-36 lead with Jim Sargent scoring at the 3-minute mark. But Ralph Anderson, Rock forward, clicked on a field goal to tie it up seconds later, 38-38.

Sargent scored again for Powers at 2:51 but 20 seconds later Anderson duplicated the feat and it was tied at 40-40. Vandebusch sent Rock ahead momentarily but with a minute and 43 seconds remaining Bernard Popoure scored for Powers to tie it at 42-42.

Rock retained control of the ball for nearly a minute before Powers tied it up for a jump. Rock got the tip and kept the ball until Vernon Norman spotted an opening and drove for the bucket. He missed but Jack Lund took the rebound and laid it up with 15 seconds remaining.

Powers took the ball downcourt but Jim Henderson fouled Terry Hade on a drive for the basket.

Hade missed both his free throws and Powers took the second rebound. Popoure got off a shot but missed at the final gun.

Sargent Top Scorer
Rock was far off form from the free throw line. The Little Giants outscored Powers 42-36 from the field but hit only 2 of 13 shots from the foul line. Hade, who led Rock with 15 points, scored only once in nine attempts. Powers cashed in on six of 11 free shots.

Jim Sargent, tall Powers forward, took scoring honors for the night with 21 points on nine field goals and three free throws.

Vandebusch was outstanding on the floor for the Little Giants. He rebounded well with the taller Powers cagers, set up several key plays and contributed 14 points to the Rock scoring total.

It was the first district championship for a Rock team since 1946. That year Rock went on to win the Upper Peninsula championship.

Other district champions that will join Rock in the regional tournament at Holy Name this week are Cedarville, Marquette Pierce and Mass. Mass is defending U. P. champion.

Form Charts Hold Up Well In State Cage Tournament

By JOE FALLS

(Associated Press Sports Writer) All things considered, the form charts have held up surprisingly well thus far in the state high school basketball tournament.

Although 490 teams were sidelined in last week's district eliminations, there was a minimum of upsets.

Only two of the state's eight unbeaten teams were eliminated—

St. Charles and Bath. The only casualty among the defending champions was Gobles, which figured to be bounced sooner or later anyway. The defending champs of Class D, hit hard by graduation losses, were ousted Saturday night by Schoolcraft, 45-41.

Champs Come Through
Three other champions—River Rouge (Class B), Lansing St. Mary

(Class C) but now playing in (Class B) and Alpha (Class E)—came through in impressive style.

Lansing St. Mary won three games in the district eliminations to run its winning streak to 33 in a row—longest in the state. River Rouge also scored three strong victories while up north, in the Upper Peninsula, little Alpha won twice in handy fashion.

The six unbeaten left in the 30th annual meet are Spring Arbor 18-0 in Class D; Scottville 18-0 and Houghton 17-0 in Class C; and Inkster 17-0, Flint St. Michael 18-0 and Lansing St. Mary 20-0, in Class B.

Joining the field for this week's regional playoffs are 57 Class A teams, who weren't required to play in the districts.

The defending champion of Class A is Muskegon Heights, which recorded an impressive 13-2 record during the season.

Quarter-Finals Set

Benton Harbor also must be rated one of the favorites in Class A. The Tigers play Grand Rapids Christian Tuesday night at Portage in what very well could be the game of the week.

Grand Rapids Christian ran up a 15-2 record during the season. The regionals run from Tuesday to Saturday, with the present field of 192 being sliced down to 32 teams.

The quarter-finals are set for Wednesday night, March 16. The semi-finals are in Lansing and East Lansing, March 18, while the finals as usual will be held in Michigan State's Jenison Fieldhouse on March 19.

Before Saturday's games, Schlundt was in third place, seven points behind Minnesota's Dick Garmaker and five points behind Frank Ehmann of Northwestern.

But Big Don finished with 369 points while Garmaker was hitting 19 for a 348 total and Ehmann was held to 16 for a 343 total.

at stake tonight. A loss would drop the Wolverines into a cellar tie with Ohio State. Should Michigan win, it could end in a four-way tie for sixth place with Purdue, Wisconsin and Indiana.

Minnesota's loss dropped the Gophers in a tie for second place with Illinois, who finished the season by trouncing Northwestern, 81-69. It was Northwestern's only home-court loss of the campaign.

Michigan State wound up fourth by whipping Michigan, 83-68, in a nationally televised game.

Indiana defeated Ohio State 83-66 as Don Schlundt poured in 47 points to capture the Big Ten scoring title for the third successive year.

Before Saturday's games, Schlundt was in third place, seven points behind Minnesota's Dick Garmaker and five points behind Frank Ehmann of Northwestern.

But Big Don finished with 369 points while Garmaker was hitting 19 for a 348 total and Ehmann was held to 16 for a 343 total.

Big Ten Champion Iowa Faces Michigan Tonight

CHICAGO (AP) — Iowa's newly-crowned Big Ten basketball champions and Michigan close out the 1954-55 basketball season at Ann Arbor tonight.

The Hawkeyes were handed the clear-cut championship Saturday night when Wisconsin upset Minnesota, 78-72.

Had the Gophers won, Iowa would be pressed to win tonight to prevent a tie. Instead, the game will merely serve as a warmup for Iowa which moves into NCAA play off Friday night at Evanston.

Iowa meets the winner of the Penn State-Memphis State game at Lexington, Ky., Tuesday night. Michigan will have much more

Marchetti Wins Speed Skating Championship

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Barbara Marchetti De Schepper, of Detroit, kept out of competition by illness until a week ago, won the North American Indoor Speed Skating Championship Sunday.

Holder of more titles than any other woman in speed skating history, Mrs. DeSchepper won the National Indoor championship at Lake Placid, N. Y., a week ago in her first meet of the season.

In the North American she beat out Pat Underhill, of Edmonton, Alta., capturing the final event, the mile race, to break a 70-70 tie between them.

Favorite Poona II Finishes Eleventh

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—St. Vincent galloped to victory in Saturday's running of the San Juan Capistrano Handicap to win the $69,800 top money.

Jockey Johnny Longden piloted the English colt to victory over second-place Determine and Giantic. Poona II, an early favorite finished eleventh in a field of 13.

New Champion Sure To Win College Tourney

KANSAS CITY (AP)—College basketball's most unpredictable tournament—the week-long National Intercollegiate—opened its 17th stand in Municipal Auditorium today.

Putting the fuse to the 32-team small college meet were Alderson-Broadway (29-5) of Philippi, W. Va., and the Minot (N.D.) Teachers (20-4).

Three games follow on the afternoon schedule. Four more will be played tonight. The same routine follows through Wednesday after which business will be cut to four games Thursday night, two Friday and two Saturday.

There'll be a new champion for sure. St. Benedict's of Atchison, Kan., surprise winner last March failed to qualify.

Perhaps the most attractive game of the opening session will match Beloit (Wis.) College, long time contender but never champion

Santee Winner In Slow Time

NEW YORK (AP)—Stymied by a lack of competition in the Knights of Columbus meet, Wes Santee will make his next assault on the world indoor mile record in the Milwaukee Journal Games Saturday and he'll come equipped with his own mechanical rabbit.

"Art Dalzell, who runs with me on the University of Kansas team, will be in the mile in Milwaukee," Santee said today. "I hope he'll set a fast pace."

Santee has a date in Houston Tuesday to tangle with Fred Dwyer and Bob McMillen. It will be the final stateside workout for the Pan American squad—and there will be no trying for records.

"I wasn't disappointed by my performance in the K of C meet last Saturday," said Santee. He was caught in 4:10.4, his second slowest winning mark of the season.

Other winners in the meet included Joe Gaffney in the 600 (1:12.1) Ron Delany in the 1,000 (2:10.1), Art Bragg in the 60-yard dash (6.2), Harrison Dillard in the 60-yard hurdles (7.2), Horace Ashenfelder in the two mile (3:56.6), Bob Richards in the pole vault (15-4 1/2) and Vic Fritts in the high jump (6-8).

and Whitworth College of Spokane, Wash. Second-seeded Beloit has a season record of 20-3. Whitworth has won 21 and lost 8.

First-seeded Western Illinois of Macomb, which lost in the finals last year, plays its first round game with Regis College of Denver Tuesday night. Western Illinois comes to the tournament with a 23-2 record compared to Regis' 14-13.

Another attractive game today appeared the match between Texas Southern of Houston, only all-Negro college in the tournament, and Adrian (Mich.) College. Southern's 27-2 season record is best in the field. Adrian has a commendable 19-3 mark.

The only former winner in the 17 years of the tournament, Southwestern of Winfield, Kan., will meet Loyola of Los Angeles tonight. Southwestern won the 1939 meet, then a 16-team affair.

Cleveland Has Reason To Gloat Over Hurlers

The Associated Press

Since pitching usually is the predominant factor in the success of a pennant winner, the Cleveland Indians had good reason today to gloat.

The last of the Tribe hurlers, Early Wynn, a perennial holdout, came to terms Sunday. The hard working right hander signed a contract for about $40,000.

Terms were not disclosed by General Manager Hank Greenberg who still has two re-calibrants to contend with—second baseman Bobby Avila and outfielder Dave Philley.

Heavy On Hurlers

The Indians seem to be abound in pitching potential for the 1955 campaign.

Wynn and Bob Lemon were the mainstays last season, winning 23 apiece, while Mike Garcia accounted for 19 victories and Art Houtteman contributed 15. That adds up to 80 of Cleveland's 111 triumphs.

Veterans Bob Feller 13 victories and Hal Newhouse 7, plus rookie relievers Don Mossi 6 and Ray Narleski 3, also will be back on the scene, hoping to duplicate their 1954 success.

But Cleveland also is expecting another pitcher, who wasn't with them last season, to be a big asset. He is Herb Score, a strapping 21-year-old left-hander who compiled a 22-5 record for Indianapolis.

Mays Hits Homer

Other happenings around the spring training circuit.

Mickey Vernon of the Washington Senators ended his holdout by signing for a reported $26,500.

With Ted Kluszewski of the Cincinnati Redlegs pinch-hitting safely for both sides, big Klus' team edged the Gus Bells 2-1 in an intrasquad game.

Third baseman Jim Finigan delivered three hits and rookie southpaw Carl Duser allowed just one hit in three scoreless innings to highlight the Kansas City Athletics' first intrasquad game.

Home runs by Willie Mays and Whitey Lockman sparked the New York Giants' regulars to a 9-3 victory over the rookies.

Wilt The Stilt Belongs On College Or Pro Cage Court; But He's Only 17

PHILADELPHIA (NEA) — It was implausible to see Wilt Chamberlain in a high school game. This seven-foot, one inch chunk of basketball talent belted in such places as Madison Square Garden or Kentucky's auditorium or wherever the nation's best play.

But Wilt is only 17 and he still is a senior at Overbrook High School here, so he was out on a postage stamp-sized court, playing in a schoolboy league game with kids his own age.

His presence turned the game into a joke. With anywhere from nine inches to a foot in height advantage over anybody on the floor—and many degrees of talent—Chamberlain batted in 43 points and controlled the game until he was taken out at the start of the final quarter with the game a 40-point rout.

WILT THE STILT, as this towering youngster is called, has made a shambles of high school basketball in Philadelphia. And while he's been doing so, his name has been reaching every college in the nation which has basketball interests.

Chamberlain now must stand as the most-battered high school basketball player in the game's history. He has had over 200 gilt-edged offers for a free college education.

And the kid has been going quietly nuts because of it. "The phone never stops ringing home," he says. "People always bother me. 'How would you like to come to this place?' they'll ask me. Then five minutes later somebody else is here and he wants me to go to another college. I don't know what to do. I'm not going to talk to anybody from now on. I'm just tired of it all."

When you see Chamberlain play, it is easy to see why college scouts and alumni groups are ready to hustle all the cash in sight to get him into a certain school.

HE IS A GOOD-LOOKING boy who, if you can see up that far, wears a mustache. His arms are proportionately normal, hanging down to the middle of his thighs—but when he sticks them into the air they look like a couple of bridge towers. His legs are the reason they give him the Stilt nickname. His shoulders are wide and strong.

The first time you see this frame in action you know Wilt Chamberlain is a basketball player—perhaps one of the best ever to come along.

A long set missed the mark and Chamberlain leaped up—he can jump as well as a small guy—and grabbed the ball with his huge right hand. He came down, whirled and headed up the court, dribbling. Four bounces of the ball—eight giant strides—and Wilt was at the foul line.

Then he whipped an underhand pass to a teammate underneath, who stuck in an easy layup.

On the next play, the same thing happened. Only Chamberlain left the floor at the foul line and fired a line-drive one hander. It missed—but you had to watch closely. For in the same motion that he shot, Wilt soared to the basket, grabbed the rebound before it was a foot off the backboard, then slammed it downward through the net as he flew under the basket and out of bounds.

THE ABILITY TO DO THESE things—which clearly stamp him as being good enough to play in the professional ranks right away—reacts strangely on Wilt. He tries to get interested in a game from which his overpowering play take all interest.

He shouts and yells to his teammates, but then he'll score a ridiculously easy basket and it keeps him quiet for a time. If others him to be thought of as a pro when all he wants to be is a 17-year-old high school kid.

"Too many people," he kept saying "too many photographers, too many people. Stop with the 'how big you are' stuff. You're going to go to college, but I don't know where. Won't people let me make up my own mind?"

Only Ivy League Race Is Yet To Be Settled

By ED CORRIGAN

The Associated Press

Except for the Ivy League race, which has yet to be decided, all the tumult and the shouting of the regular college basketball season is over. Now it's down to the serious business of the NCAA and National Invitation tournaments.

The Ivy League representative will be determined by Wednesday at the latest—a day after the NCAA Tournament gets under way. This is the most complicated situation since the Ivies began keeping records back in 1902.

Here's the setup:

Princeton, second in the league with a 9-4 record, closes its regular season schedule against Brown in the first game of an unusual double-header at Princeton tonight. Columbia and Penn, who finished in a tie for first with 10-4 records, clash in the second game.

Princeton Favored

If Princeton loses, the nightcap will be for the championship. But Princeton is a strong favorite to whip Brown, and if the Tigers do win, they'll meet the second-game winner Wednesday night on a neutral court for the title.

Until Sunday, the Missouri Valley Conference had the key to a spot in both the NCAA and NIT. The race wound up in a tie between St. Louis and Tulsa. The winner of a playoff was to play in the NCAA and the runner-up the NIT. So they solved it by a conference committee vote. Tulsa got the NCAA spot and St. Louis the NIT.

So here's how they line up in the preliminary round of the NCAA Tuesday night at four different spots:

Three Tied For 1st In Tourney

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Three golfers, who fought from behind during a tricky wind, tee off today in an 18-hole playoff for $2,200 first money in the $12,500 Baton Rouge Open.

They are Bo Wining, Oklahoma City; Jimmy Clark, Laguna Beach, Calif.; and Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex., who tied for first with 278s after Sunday's fourth round.

The three came from behind in the final round, played as a sudden cold snap with powerful wind gusts playing tricks with their shots on the 6,450-yard Baton Rouge Country Club course.

However, Clark managed a par 72 and the other two got 71s.

If they tie again today, a sudden death playoff will follow.

Maxwell, playing in the final threesome, fell six inches short of first money on the 18th hole when he missed a putt and a winning 70.

Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill., who had a one-stroke lead over the field with 205 at the start of Sunday's round, found the chill wind and final round tension too much. He came in with 74 for a 279 total.

Jerry Barber, Los Angeles; Jay Hebert, Woodmere, N. Y.; Art Doering, Inwood, N.Y., and Cary Middlecoff, Klamath Lake, N.Y., finished with 279.

'Lost Cities' Just Misplaced, American Explorer Discovers

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The funny thing about the desert, so far as Dr. Wendell Phillips is concerned, is the way it springs surprises on the man who isn't geared for instantaneous change and rapid-fire thinking.

Dr. Phillips headed the American Foundation expedition into the old lands of Southern Arabia looking for the Queen of Sheba's capital city, Marib, and, when he had been there only a few weeks, the surprises began.

Tents were pitched on sands that had not felt rain water for four years. Even the sand fleas looked starved and the birds of prey had flown away because there was nothing to eat.

Then, one morning, the rains came and, before the Arab workers could move camp, two had been drowned in a flash flood that came sweeping down a wadi.

Excavating was going on in Sheba's famed city and golden statues, bronze artifacts and alabaster inscriptions were being found down in the earth that had known the footsteps of mankind eight centuries before Christ. Everyone was feeling elated because the King of Yemen had given permission to explore one of the rare finds of archeology.

Then came word that the King had changed his mind. Enemies had whispered to him that the expedition had stolen a golden replica of Sheba herself. Dr. Phillips and his scientists leaped into two power-wagons and fled for their lives ahead of the King's vengeful Camel Corps.

DR. WENDELL PHILLIPS finds no wasted time in digging.

Thinking back over his adventures today, the young scientist laughed at the surprises.

"You look for lost cities and when you get there an urchin on the street shows you where they are and how to get there," he said. "They are not lost, only misplaced by Westerners."

The biggest surprise he experienced, however, was in actually finding a lost city, the old spice port of Sumhuram on the coast of the Sultanate of Muscat and Oman.

Although only 33, Dr. Phillips has led expeditions into Africa and five of them into Arabia. Before the summer comes he will be back in the Middle East Province in Oman.

Out of these travels he has amassed many rare finds which will be on exhibit in New York. And from them, too, he obtained material for a new book, "Qataban and Sheba."

Qataban and Sheba were two ancient kingdoms that thrived because they lay astride the Biblical spice routes of Arabia. Then one day a Greek sailor figured out a pattern for the winds that accompany the monsoons and the land routes were dead.

It has been fun, but hasn't always been relaxing to dig in the sands, looking for civilizations that were old before Christ.

"If the weather and the distance and expense were the only worries, they'd be enough," said Dr. Phillips. "But there's the permission needed to enter different areas, the rivalry between Arabian rulers and tribesmen, and the danger from rebel nomads."

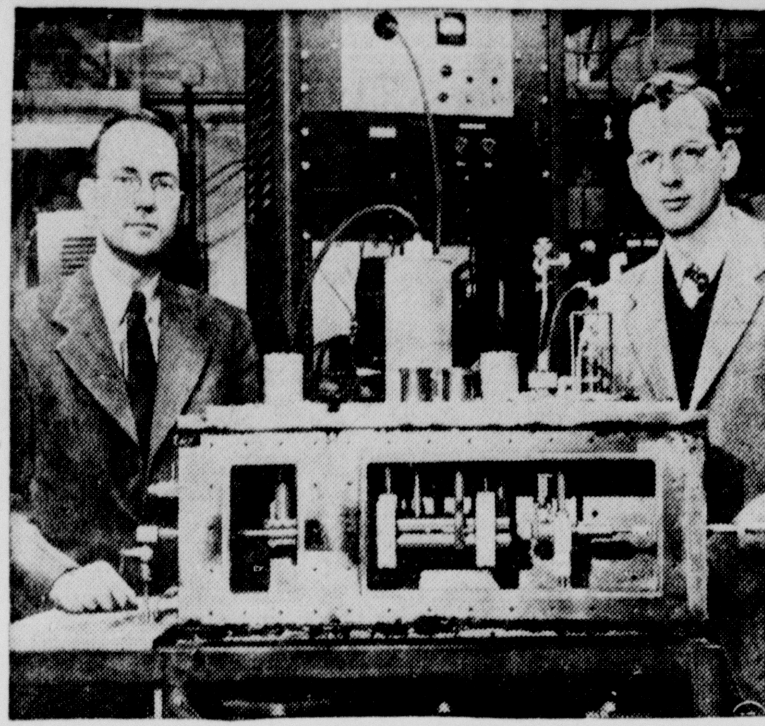

"When I went in to Timna, the old capital of Qataban, the present Sultan asked for $45,000 as an entry fee. He settled for a steamroller which we got later."

"The governor of Aden gave us a party of his crack soldiery to protect us, but, when we got too far into the desert, they just left for home. Most of the time we relied upon the size and strength of our own party, which traveled in a dozen power-wagons. Each one had as many guns as an Army weapons carrier."

Outside Marib, the Queen of Sheba's fantastic home, they found the ruins of a great dam which had once impounded rainwater. The sluice gates were as high as modern three-story homes.

The ancients knew the value of water and irrigation but, when the revenue from the spice caravans dwindled, empires fell apart—and with them the reservoirs and water systems.

"Sometimes people ask me

TIMED BY THE ATOM—Said to be the world's most accurate timing device, this "atomic clock" is the invention of Columbia University Professor Charles H. Townes, left, with assistance of Dr. J. P. Gordon, right. Called "Maser" for its function, "Microwave Amplification by Stimulated Emission of Radiation," it uses energy radiated by molecules of ammonia as its timing standard. Possible uses: Accurate measurement of earth's rotation, spectroscopic study of molecular structure, frequency modulation, and a role in navigation.

why I dig for these things of long ago," said Dr. Phillips.

"They think much of it is wasted time. But I don't. If I can show that civilizations which were powerful—in the day when 20,000 camels could be seen in a single caravan—have fallen for economic reasons, we may be able to draw parallels which will save our own great nation."
